Original Family Recipe, Minty Dark Chocolate, Chocolate Espresso Bean, Lemon Blueberry with Poppy Seeds & Spicy Chipotle with Ginger and Dark Chocolate.

From the ideal amount of cherries in the Original Family Recipe to just the right amount of ginger in the Spicy Chipotle with Ginger and Dark Chocolate, Papa Ben created the five featured flavors with foodies of the world in mind.

"Papa Ben" himself, Ben Lesser, was born in Krakow, Poland in 1928. His father, Lazar, owned a chocolate company famous for making chocolate covered wafer cookies. Lazar instilled his passion for baking in the family, which ultimately allowed the family to survive outside the ghettos for a portion of World War II. Using the stone oven in their cottage, Ben and his father worked together to prepare the finest baked goods, including Mandelbroyt, for family, friends and their surrounding village.

"The holiday season is truly a great time for my family especially to celebrate our own traditions," says Papa Ben's Kitchen President, Gail Lesser-Gerber. "It brings me great joy to share personal family recipes with a new generation who will now experience what my father; Ben grew up baking with his father. We hope the aroma will help take everyone back to a time where family traditions began.”

Enjoy each of the flavorful, all natural, non-dairy and Kosher cookies as you warm up this season with seasonal teas, almond milk, coffee or even pair the Mandelbroyt with your favorite red wines and delicious cold beers. At only 80 calories a cookie, you and your guests can enjoy each of the decadent flavors and more!
